IDENTIFIED BY A SHOE.

The mystery of the disappearance of Miss Elizabeth Hansen, a Presbyterian church missionary who disappeared from her home in Cincinnati, O., April 17 last, is believed to have been solved by the finding of a leg of a woman in the sand bar in the river at the foot of Bridge street yesterday. The rest of the body has not been recovered. The limb was found protruding from the sand bar which has been left high and dry by the extreme low water in the river. It was badly decomposed, and from appearances has been torn away from the socket at the hip evidently by the waters after time had done its work. On the foot was a shoe and a part of a black stocking. The shoe has been identified by a brother and sister of the girl as resembling one worn by Miss Hansen when she disappeared. Miss Hansen's family has suspected from the first that she committed suicide by throwing herself in the river, and the partial identification of the shoe appears to bear out this suspicion.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills will promptly relieve all Kidney and Bladder disorders. Sold and recommended by W F. Creighton & Co.

BULL AND LOCOMOTIVE.

When an express train on the Ulster and Delaware Railroad last night approached a bull standing on the tracks the animal lowered his shaggy head and charged.

The impact with the cowcatcher threw the bull to the top of an embankment, but the animal struggled back to the tracks to continue the battle, and fell under a parlor car, derailing it. The train was quickly stopped, and no one was injured.

The passengers assisted the train crew in disengaging remnants of the carcass from the running gear, and the train proceeded, after an hour's delay, on its way toward New York.

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson, of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

HOTELS BAR NEGROES.

Delegates to the national convention of the Colored Elks of America who arrived in St. Paul, yesterday, found signs in all the leading hotels and restaurants notifying them that they would not be served there.

Although many negroes plainly showed their disgust, there was no redress, and the committee which had arranged for the convention had made an arrangement with the Hotel and Restaurant Keepers' Association whereby the association agreed to pay the rental of the St. Paul Auditorium for the convention rather than have to entertain the negroes as guests.

The convention opened today with addresses of welcome by Gov. John A. Johnson and Mayor Daniel W. Lawler.

If you take Kodol in the beginning the bad attacks of Dyspepsia will be avoided, but if you allow these little attacks to go unheeded it will take Kodol a longer time to put your stomach in good condition again. Get a bottle of Kodol today. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

A LONG WALK HOME.

Jeremy Jackson, colored, having walked, he claims, from Alabama to Virginia, was arrested yesterday in Henrico county on a charge of trespassing on property and frightening women. Jackson claims to be 77 years old, and told the officers after his arrest that he tramped to Virginia in search of the relatives of his former master, as he belonged, before the war, to a man named Mason, who lived near Richmond. He said that all his family had died in Alabama, and that he came back to Virginia as he thought he could find a home here with the family of his master. Jackson arrived in Henrico three days ago, and has been sleeping in the woods and begging for a livelihood.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle, of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Richard Gibson.

EARTHQUAKE IN VIRGINIA.

Citizens of Chesterfield, Powhatan and Amelia counties were frightened Sunday into spending a day in the rain in the open field, by four distinctly-felt earthquake shocks which visited the three counties between 4 o'clock in the morning and the early afternoon. All of the shocks were preceded by rumblings and roarings similar to thunder and the approach of a storm. Negroes especially were frightened. Many of them left their homes at the first quake in the early morning, seeking the open fields in their night garments and refusing to take shelter in their homes again throughout the entire day. Religious services in churches were abandoned by the negroes, who held preaching in the open fields where they had congregated for mutual protection.

Annual Convention and Tournament Virginia State Firemen's Association, Harrisonburg, Va., August 26th, 28th, 1908.

STOVE PIPE HOLES and LARGE FLOWER POTS, just received by J. C. MILBURN.

TUESDAY EVENING, AUG. 25, 1908.

THE encyclical embodying the results of the recent Lambeth conference of 243 Episcopal bishops at London, England, from all parts of the world, shows that a strong stand was taken for the essential aims of socialism. The conference, after much discussion, recognized the principles of brotherhood underlying this international movement, and called upon the church to show its sympathy for it "in so far as it strives to procure for all just treatment and a real opportunity to live true human lives." The conference also took a position squarely against the higher criticism of the Bible, and affirmed the historical truth of the facts stated in the creed. It also opposed the organization of churches with the color line drawn, affirming that all races and peoples must be welded together in one body. By a vote of 87 to 84, the conference resolved that it was undesirable that the innocent party to a divorce for infidelity receive the blessing of the church upon the marriage.

WHILE absurdly boasting of the fine prospect of carrying Virginia, Tennessee and several other southern States for Taft the republican campaign managers cannot conceal their anxiety in regard to Ohio, Indiana and New York. In the estimation of impartial observers these states are in the doubtful list, with the scale inclining more and more to the democratic party. Why, only today dispatches from Hot Springs state that much anxiety is manifested by the republican leaders who go there over the situation in New York State.

WITH the menace of the Crumpacker bill to deprive the southern democrats of their representation in Congress for preventing ignorance from controlling their State governments it is said that democrats in Virginia and Maryland are going to vote for the candidates of the party that proclaims this vindictive sectional policy. These must be only brevet democrats, suggests the Philadelphia Record.

"A Little Brother of the Rich" is the title of a book just out from the pen of Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago's millionaire socialist, which is of a sensational character. It deals with the life of the rich society and stage folks at New York without gloves, showing money to be the sole aim of all through various forms of moral degradation and sensuality.

DUN & Co. report 239 commercial failures for the past week, as compared with 173 in the corresponding week of last year. Railroad earnings for the first half of August show continued loss in traffic. Bank exchanges are 9 per cent. less than in the same week of last year but the republican politicians bill us that "prosperity has returned."

NOT satisfied with employing his summer vacation at Sagamore Hill in making a president for the American people the indefatigable Executive has turned his hand to making a governor for New York. These things may amuse his leisure, but they are not compatible with the functions and duties of the president of the United States.

A SENATE sub-committee, headed by Senator Burrows, of Michigan, met in Washington yesterday to gather data for the use of Congress in revising the tariff. If Senator Burrows has his way the only tariff revision he will recommend is one upwards.

AMERICANS are said to be backing a revolutary movement to overturn the Castro government in Venezuela. This has been suspected for some time and may turn out to be a second Panama affair.

From Washington.

Washington, Aug. 25.

A fake opinion by the attorney general which has been more or less circulated in regard to land rights was emphatically denied at the Department of Justice today. The story stated that the attorney general had rendered a decision that land along the navitable streams between low and high water mark (to danger line from 20 to 60 feet, according to the grade of bank) belonging to the government and not to the riparian owners. In answer to dozens inquiries the department today authorized a general denial that there had ever been such a decision.

The general land office today announces the signing of a proclamation by the president opening the Tripp county lands in South Dakota and appointing Judge James W. Witten, chief law officer of the general land office to superintend the registration and drawing for sites, which later will take place at Dallas, Monday, October 19.

To thwart rumored plots against the life of King Alfonso of Spain, the itinerary of his trip from Madrid to London, where he has just arrived, was secretly changed from the published route. The public was kept in ignorance of these changes. King Alfonso is now at the Isle of Wight, where he joined his wife, who is visiting her mother.

Virginia News.

Sunday night the general merchandise store of Showkir & Bros, at Craigsville, Augusta county, was ransacked by burglars and it is reported that $600 or $700 worth of goods were stolen.

Right Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, bishop coadjutor of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Southern Virginia, arrived at New York yesterday on the steamer Minneapolis from London, where he attended the Pan Anglican Congress.

James P. Acree, one of the best known warehousemen and capitalists of Danville, died yesterday at the General Hospital there after an illness of several years. He was one of the largest real estate holders of that city.

Mrs. William Lewis announces in New York the engagement of her niece, Miss Elizabeth Fairfax Johnson, daughter of the late C. Fairfax Johnson, of Virginia, to Wilburn Cornwell, of Plainfield, N. J., a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Robbins Cornwell.

The King George Sunday School Association will meet at Potomac Baptist Church August 29 and 30. An extensive programme has been prepared and there will be a number of prominent speakers. The sermon will be preached by Rev. J. M. Pilcher, of Petersburg.

Upon returning home in Winchester after a visit Sunday night Edward Mauzy, of Whitacre, found his sister, Miss Minnie Mauzy, alone and lying on her bed in a dying condition. She expired before a physician could be summoned. Death was caused by apoplexy. She was 28 years old.

The wife of Major General Charles Edward Lusrd was mysteriously murdered yesterday afternoon in a desolate wood, near Seven Oaks, which is a short distance outside London. No trace of the murderer has been found, but the motive apparently was robbery, valuable rings having been taken from the woman's fingers.

Edward W. Graham, of Suffolk, who, up to his retirement a dozen years ago, was a star baseball player, but who now is a settled family man, Sunday dreamed he was base-digging. The dreamer took a high dive to the floor and finally butted against a bureau, which he cracked. Graham is laid up under a physician's care, but will recover.

Fannie Nightingale, seventeen years old, and Lucy Barker, several years younger, negresses, were arrested yesterday in Richmond charged with systematic shoplifting. Each carried a leather bag on her arm, from which was recovered over $100 worth of valuable articles. There are said to have been five young women in the gang, but the other three made their escape.

Savino Bernado, who killed his sixteen-year-old sweetheart in Brooklyn, was lodged in jail in Richmond last night. He was captured in a small Florida town after a search practically of the whole continent. The girl refused to marry him, and he shot her while on her knees praying to him for mercy. The Brooklyn officers who have him in charge stopped in Richmond to take a short rest.

Representative Harry L. Maynard, in trying to head off the effect of Colonel Cabell's circulars, mailed Sunday night, wired as follows to H. E. Smith, his Nansemond county leader: "Statement contained in Cabell's circular that I voted for increase of congressmen's salaries false. Also statement that I would never again be candidate for re-election. These statements made when he thought it too late for correction."

Virginia Christian College, located at Lynchburg, is to have a boys' dormitory, the cost of which is to be $20,000 and which is the gift of Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie gave $20,000 to the college, with the proviso that it would raise $30,000. The amount has been subscribed and will be used for the erection of a main building. The dormitory, which is to be completed by the first of next February, is to be of colonial style, three stories of red brick, and to contain 40 rooms, with accomodations for 80 pupils.

The Hains Case.

New York, Aug. 25.—"Captain Peter C. Hains, jr., is as sane as any one," said Sheriff Harvey of Queens county today. Stories that he is raving like a maniac in his cell are ridiculously untrue. He is precise in his life and an ideal prisoner.

"All the stories that have been printed saying that Captain Hains moans for 'my poor wife' and raves to go back to his army post are absurd," continued the sheriff. T. Jenkins Hains is as well and composed as his brother."

Frank F. Wild, attorney for Mrs. Hains, declares today that she would not go on the stand to confess wrong doing and thus save her husband.

When McIntyre, chief counsel for the Hains brothers, was told that Mrs. Hains might take the stand for the prosecution, he said: "If Mrs. Hains is a competent legal witness for the state I shall waive all objections I might have and let her take the stand. We have all the evidence we need to substantiate the charges made by Captain Hains. Mrs. Hains can not deny them."

In this connection Mr. McIntyre claims to have certain letters written by Annis to Mrs. Hains. What is their contents he refuses to say, but avers that when the trial opens they will be one of the features which, he says, "will make the Hains trial one of the most sensational in the history of the courts of New York state."

Meat Prices.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Competition that promises to mean a cut in meat prices is scheduled in the beef trade about October 1. An independent concern has been incorporated under the name of the Chicago stock yards and transit company as a rival of the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company. It has a capital of $2,500,000, of which nearly half is to be spent for a plant. The company has purchased 25 acres of land and is now building. According to H. W. Rockwell, one of the incorporators, the benefits of competition will be enjoyed by the cattle raisers, butchers and consumers because the new company expects to cut prices.

All hope of a peaceful settlement of the dispute at The Hague between the Netherlands and Venezuela was removed today by the receipt of a second note from Jose deSesus Paul the Venezuelan foreign minister what made an amicable settlement practically impossible. The Dutch government will hasten its preparations for establishing a blockade of Venezulean ports.

This is his second escape from the institution, he having been placed there the last time just after attempting to carry out his murderous designs three weeks ago.

Today's Telegraphic News

Mr. Kern Notified.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25.—John W. Kern, running mate of W. J. Bryan on the democratic national ticket, was officially informed today that he was selected to make the race for the vice presidency. But the Kern notification, despite the fact that it attracted to this city an outpouring from far and near, was but a sidelight on the big show. W. J. Bryan, Mr. Kern's superior on the ticket, was really the man in the limelight. He delivered the real speech of the day. Mr. Bryan intends to get the electoral vote of Indiana this year if possible. To this end he delivered his second set speech of the campaign as a part of the day's programme and outlined the issues upon which he seeks to win the middle west. The subject of the presidential candidate's address was "the trusts" and in his discourse he set forth his reasons why the democratic party is best able to cope with this problem.

The Kern notification took place at the state fair grounds, just outside of the city. Long before the hour set for the departure of the committee and its guests, the headquarters of the democratic organization was filled with prominent democrats from all sections of the United States. There was no set parade of marching clubs, neither was there any street demonstration. A few buildings in the business section were decorated but on the whole, the general appearance of Indianapolis was that of quietude.

It was Mr. Kern's own request that the committee of arrangements refrained from asking the citizens to decorate.

The notification party proceeded from the democratic headquarters to the fair grounds in three automobiles. In the leading machine were seated Candidates Bryan and Kern and Theodore D. Bell. Immediately behind them in the second automobile came National Committeeman Mack, former Chairman Thomas Taggart and the candidate for governor, Thomas R. Marshall.

By virtue of his position as national committeeman from this state, Thomas Taggart called the meeting to order and Rev. Father Gavisk delivered the invocation. Norman E. Mack was then introduced, and declared there was little doubt that the democratic party would be successful at the polls, insisting that he had reason to know that the public was aroused to the "misgovernment of the republican party."

Mr. Mack was followed by Theodore Bell, of California, chairman of the notification committee. Mr. Bell made a short speech referring to Mr. Kern's worth as a citizen and stating that he could be depended on as a candidate to see that the principles of the platform adopted at Denver were rigidly adhered to.

After thanking the committee for the great honor conferred upon him and promising if elected to serve the people by the conscientious discharge of his duty, Mr. Kern said in part:

I am persuaded that it was the chief purpose of the convention in choosing a southern Indianan as its vice presidential nominee to show its appreciation of the great democratic party of this splendid commonwealth made up of more than a third of a million men, the very flower of the democratic party of the republic. I accept the honor in the name of the loyal democrats of Indiana.

In the distinguished gentleman associated with me, I recognize one of spotless character and high ideals, actuated by patriotic motives and an earnest desire to promote the welfare, honor and glory of his country. He became the candidate because of the great popular movement in his favor. He entered this campaign unpledged to any special interest under no obligations to any unlawful combination of capital, looking to no corporation for any campaign contributions—free to serve the people by carrying out the pledges of his party's platform.

While he is the foe to unlawful monopoly and ready to lay a heavy hand upon the lawless, whether rich or poor, without fear or favor, and to combat the encroachments of greed, he is the friend of every legitimate business enterprise, whether conducted by individual or corporation, and will sympathize with every movement for the prosperity of the country.

A distinguished republican referred to his influence with his party as a "one man" power. If by that he meant Mr. Bryan possessed the power to arouse the conscience of the republic, or if he meant that by his upright life, his appeal for right living and patriotic actions, he has earned the confidence, the personal affections of millions of his countrymen then the distinguished gentleman is right with respect to the "one man power" of William Jennings Bryan. Every delegate to the democratic national convention carried his sovereignity "under his own hat" and as an American freeman, owing no allegiance save to country and flag, voted for Bryan because he believed the election of such a man was demanded by the best interests of the people.

Mr. Kern then cited the way the republican leaders in Congress treated the demands of the press for relief from the tariff on wood pulp; how Mr. Babcock seeking relief for the farmers and laborers by a reduction of the tariff on iron and steel have been unable to get his measure before the House and have Speaker Cannon refuse to allow certain remedial measures to get past the committee on rules and asked if this is ruled by the people? Continuing he said: The American voters can regain their right to self government by asserting their manhood on election day and with their ballots rebuke the party that has brought about these conditions.

The dominant leadership of the republicans, which elects the speaker of the House and names the committee of the Senate, is in full control of the machinery provided for the protection of intrenched monopoly.

This leadership is circulating two kinds of campaign literature, one for the east, to be placed in the hands of trust magnates, tariff beneficiaries and stock gamblers and others supposed to be enemies of the president, declaring that Mr. Taft is "safe and sane," free from the faults of Roosevelt; the other kind for the west, intended for farmers and laborers, presumed to be admirers of the president and declaring that Taft is Roosevelt's double and may be safely counted on to insist on his policies and see that they are carried out. This leadership of the republican party, responsible for the political ills of the country, is satisfied with its nominees giving them active and substantial support, shouting the praises of Roosevelt interests out of which they are trying in the west and south, and damning him and his politics to the privileges the fat with which they hope to carry the election.

He then discussed the tariff and approval of it by the republican nominee for vice president, condemning both. In the tariff he sees the cause for industrial stagnation, lack of employment among American workmen, national poverty and working destitution.

He charged the fiscal policy of the republican party with being responsible for the panic of 1907. Hundreds of thousands of American laborers, thrown out of employment because of that policy, instead of being able to draw upon the fabulous savings bank accounts exploited in political literature, found themselves and families in a state of destitution. He said the soup houses of 1907-8 are but a part of the realization of the "roseate expectations of republican statesmen."

Mr. Kern said the tariff operated with special harshness against the farmer. The speaker approved the policy of President Roosevelt, Senator LaFollette and other republicans who demand regulation of trusts and reduction of swollen fortunes.

In closing Mr. Kern said:

"The democratic maxim of Thomas Jefferson, 'equal and exact justice to all men; special privileges to none,' suggests no war upon capital. It has no quarrels with corporations honestly capitalized, conducting legitimate business. It will encourage the investment of capital in the development of the country and protect it when it is invested. But it will draw a sharp line between lawful business, lawfully conducted, and business carried on in defiance of the law and the rights of the public, protecting the legitimate interests.

Mr. Kern was followed by Thomas R. Marshall, democratic candidate for governor, who declared that as a democrat, if elected, he would adhere to the old-time principle that the "least possible government is the best government," and he pledged himself to carry out the principles of the national and State platforms when elected.

Mr. Bryan then made his speech.

Failure Announced.

New York, Aug. 25.—The suspension of A. O. Brown & Co., one of the largest brokerage firms in New York, has been announced on the Stock Exchange. Within half an hour of the announcement of the suspension D. W. Noel, an attorney, was appointed assignee. At two o'clock the suspension of the firm was also announced on the New York Cotton Exchange. Their outstanding interests there are small.

At 2 15 p. m. E. F. Buchanan, of the suspended firm, issued a statement in which he declared that the failure was not a grave one and that the firm could pay off dollar for dollar. He expressed the belief that there would be a resumption very shortly.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—A. O. Brown & Co., of New York, have ordered open trades in grain on the Chicago Board of Trade closed. This is equivalent to an announcement of suspension. The firm was one of the heaviest traders on the local exchange.

Loss of Life.

Boston, Aug. 25.—Eighteen men are reported killed, a number injured in the collapse of a brick block in the Chelsea Square at 10:55 o'clock today. Ten dead, seven badly hurt, have already been taken out. The men were at work on the inside of the building, thirty-five in number, rebuilding the structure, when the front wall collapsed. Members of the police and fire departments and citizens are to dig out the remaining bodies in hope some may be living. Fifteen men are still buried in the ruins, probably dead. The building was being rebuilt by Maurice Gordon. All but the front wall had been destroyed at the time of the Chelsea fire. Thirty-five men were employed about the building and most of these were on the inside. Twelve of the men at work in the building are known to have escaped.

MAXIM'S MAXIM.

Modest Claims Often Carry More Conviction Than Loud Boasts.

When Maxim, the famous inventor, placed his gun before a commitee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be considerably below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a triumph of might have been if he had overestimated his gun's efficiency.

The September number of "Woman's Home Companion" has been received from its publishers in New York. The editorials are good; art, verse and music are excellent and the fiction is much above the average. "The Romance of an Empress" is the first of a series of articles giving the life of the Czarina. Jack London on his trip around the world sends a description of "The Nature Man," and Paderewski selects the best programme of modern Polish music. This is the great fall fashion number and contains much to interest every woman.

Harry Hill's Confederate.

New York, Aug. 25.—Dressed in costly silks and wearing many diamonds Mrs. Minnie Curtis was arrested here today charged with being the confederate of Harry Hill, brother of former Congressman George J. Hill of Paterson, N. J., who was arrested in that town and is said to have confessed to a score of burglaries. After her arrest, jewelry worn by Mrs. Curtis was identified by William Scott, whose apartments were robbed last April. In Mrs. Curtis' home were found many costly furs and much jewelry, all said to have been the fruit of raids in which Hill and the woman's companion, Bert Curtis participated. Curtis is now under arrest in Philadelphia. Hill, who has been bailed by his rich grand father, Henry King, a silk manufacturer in Paterson, it is declared has been led astray by the woman.

Von Sternburg's Funeral.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—Funeral services for Baron Speck Von Sternburg, the German Ambassador to the United States who died in Heidelberg Sunday night will be held Friday at Lutzchens, near Leipsic. Many men prominent in Germany's public life, as well as members of the foreign diplomatic corps, are arranging to attend the funeral. The Baroness Von Sternburg, who was near a collapse immediately following the death of the baron is improved today. Messages of condolence from all countries in which her husband was known have done much to lighten her sorrow. Many messages of condolence came from the United States.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he know its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

The Success Magazine for September has been received from its publishers in New York. The leading article, "The Reign of Lawlessness in Kentucky," tells of the fight being made by Gov. Augustus Willson, and claims that it is deserving national attention. "At the Threshold of Flight" deals with the airship. "Making the Desert Bloom" tells what is being done to develop the immense American desert, and "The Pulse of the World" touches on public affairs and things in general. The fiction and verse are excellent and among the departments are to be noted "Pin money Papers" "Editor's Chat," "The Well Dressed Man," etc.

RAMBLERS RETURN.

Amid clanging bells and myriads of different colored lights the Ramblers' Club returned from their fifteen days' outing on the lower river and Chesapeake bay last night. As the schooner which carried them to and from their trip passed Jones's Point lighthouse the club members displayed hundreds of fuses of different colors all along the deck of the vessel, making many people believe the vessel was on fire. This continued till the boat passed the shipyard, much to the enjoyment of the many gathered about the hills and wharves. While on the trip and when off Maryland Point, a carrier pigeon perched on the topmast of the vessel and when gotten down was found to have a band on its leg with the letters "C. S." on it. The vessel, Grapeshot, was in command of Captain J. W. Stanford, and the club's affairs were in the hands of Mr. E. J. Roberts, master of ceremonies; Mr. Eugene Craven Peyton, scullion; Mr. Wm. Roberts, chef, and Robt. Grimes, assistant. In the course of the outing the club went as far as the Chesapeake bay and some of its tributaries.

STATE FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Quite a scene of activity presented itself at the foot of Prince street when the Norfolk steamer arrived this morning bringing to this city the visiting fire engine companies from Newport News and Hampton. The first named company had 34 men in line and the latter 37, all uniformed. They were met by the Alexandria firemen and escorted to the Columbia engine house. As stated before the companies from this city have made arrangements with the Harrisonburg hotel, for the entertainment of 127 men and two bands during the session of the State Firemen's Association which will be held there. Tomorrow will be taken up with the reception of visitors at Harrisonburg and Thursday the parade will occur. Friday eight companies will enter a reel contest and the engine contest will also take place on that day. There will be twenty companies and six bands in the procession. The company boarded the 4 32 train for Harrisonburg.

SUES STEAMBOAT COMPANY.

Wilson Reed, a laborer, through his Attorney, Edmund Burke, brought suit yesterday in Washington against the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company for $15,000 damages for injuries sustained while alighting from the ferryboat at Giesboro Point, Md. He alleges that on February 2, 1908, he took passage on the Lackawanna from Alexandria, Va., to Giesboro Point, and that when the boat arrived at the latter place the captain did not make fast to the wharf. It also is alleged that the gangplank was not put out, and that Reed had to climb a ladder to the roof of the boat, and from there step over to a wharf pile. This pile, he asserts, was six feet above the wharf floor. In stepping on the pile, he says, he slipped and was thrown to the wharf, and suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

One of the pleasantiest birthday parties of the summer season took place last night at the residence of Miss Lizzie Lacey, 519 south Alfred street. It was in honor of her sister, Miss Lillian Lacey. Games of every description and a watermelon wash were indulged in and the friends of the young lady left after midnight much pleased with the entertainment. A table filled with all the delicacies of the season was spread. Among those present were Misses. Katharine Pettey, Madaline Jolliffe, Anna Nalls, Margurite Nalls, Maggie Williams, Katie William, Mae Crump, Lottie Anderson, Lizzie and Annie Lacey and Messrs. Wm. H. Pettey, J. F. Pettey, C. A. Dean, George Nalls and Richard Greenwood.

THE CARNIVAL.

Everybody seems much interested in the big time offered by the Fraternal Order of Eagles which is billed for Aug. 26 to Sept 5, inclusive, the occasion being a real carnival. From the present outlook it points to a big success. Mr. George S. Marr, who has been engaged to handle the amusements and commissions, has just wired from Camden, N. J., that he has landed a surprise, the nature of which he will not give out just at this time but he says it is a good one. This being the first time the Eagles of Alexandria have undertaken a thing of this kind, it is expected that the results will be far above expectations.

THE SAME OLD CHARGE.

Every day or two a countryman comes to the station house with a harrowing tale about being robbed, most of the "hold ups" being just before these men have paid their bills due commission houses in this city. Last night one came to police headquarters and stated that he had been to two wholesale houses and paid his bills and had wandered "aimlessly" on north Lee street, where he says, he was "touched" for the remainder of his cash. Officer Henderson went with him but the accused could not identify the house in which the robbery occurred.

X-RAYS USED.

Mr. Winter Crupper, an employe of the ice plant at the Portner Brewing Company, was taken to Washington yesterday where the X-rays will be used on his arm for the purpose of seeing the extent of the injury caused by a large cake of ice falling upon it. This is a rather sad accident as Mr. Crupper only had one good arm before this last misfortune.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Dora Churchill, colored, arrested by Officer Young for disorderly conduct, forfeited collateral.

Josephine Lee, colored, arrested by Officer Nicholson, for obtaining goods under false pretenses from Edward Atwell, fined $5.

Mamie Smith, arrested, by Officer Henderson for selling liquor without a license, forfeited $50.

John McMahon, arrested by Officer Henderson, for exposing his person on the street, was fined $50.

Parrino Benedetto, assault on James Laporte with a pistol; plead guilty of assault for which he was fined $10 and he was fined $50 for carrying concealed weapon.

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Parrino Benedetto, the Italian who assaulted James Laporte at the old City Hotel Saturday evening with a pistol and who was captured shortly afterwards was brought before the police court this morning for trial. Benedetto was represented by Mr. Robley D. Brumback and Mr. S. G. Brent appeared for the commonwealth. An agreement was reached, and the Italian was fined $50 for carrying concealed weapons and $5 for each case of assault, making the fine and incident expenses $70, which was paid. Mr. Laporte did not seem inclined to prosecute the case beyond the city ordinance for cases of assault.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

The new City Council will meet one week from today—Tuesday, September 1st, at noon, when an organization will be effected by the election of officers. So far as known the present officers will be re-elected. The only two new members of the body will be Messrs. Howard W. Smith and R. D. Brumback, from the Second ward, who will take the places of Councilmen Henry Strauss and J. Y. Williams, of the Second ward, who were not candidates for re-election. After the two branches of Council have organized, the joint session will be held when Mayor Paff will be inaugurated for a second term.

ELKS' EXCURSION.

As will be seen by an advertisement on this page Alexandria Lodge of Elks will give an excursion to Marshall Hall and Indian Head on Thursday of this week. The excursions of this organization have always been of the first order and prove very enjoyable. This will be no exception to the rule and those who attend can rest assured of a pleasant trip. The delight of this lodge has been in the entertainments of its friends, who are legion. There will be three trips, the last from this city after stopping at Marshall Hall proceeding to Indian Head. If the weather is propitious a large crowd is expected.

MAD DOG SCARE.

Quite a scare was caused on the ferry steamer Lackawanna on a trip from this city to Washington yesterday morning. A dog was brought aboard the boat by a passenger. When the steamer left the wharf the dog became frightened at the sight of water and showed some peculiar antics which scared the people on the boat. The passengers sought every conceivable plan for protection, supposing the dog was mad, and they were greatly relieved when the dog jumped overboard just above this city.

MORE COMLPAINT.

Colonel William E. Sisson registered a complaint with Chief Goods this morning that "Toots" Squills, colored, had broken open the cabin of the scow Farmer's Friend, and stolen therefrom an axe, hatchet, pistol and pair of oars. He charges that this same negro took his boat and disposed of it in some manner about four weeks ago. He says he has positive proof that this negro is the criminal.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

It is understood that the permits for pupils to attend the public schools will be issued beginning at 9 o'clock on Monday morning, September 7th, at Armory Hall. Permits for white children will be issued on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and for colored people on the following Thursday and Friday. The schools, it is understood, will open for study on Monday, September 14.

AMUSEMENT COMPANIES.

Tonight there will be interesting programmes at the moving picture houses and an entire change of pictures will be the order. The many people who attended both houses last night pronounced the pictures first class. The proprietors deserve crowded houses as they have invested their capital for the benefit of the amusement loving public. See advertisement for change of pictures tonight.

A. L. I.

The regular weekly drill of Company G, Seventieth Virginia Regiment, was held last night, and quite a number of members were present. Col. Charles A. Dempsey, U. S. A., retired, who is detailed at Richmond for duty with the State volunteer militia, last night paid an unofficial visit to the armory and witnessed the drill.

SOCIAL SESSION.

The first social session to be given by Alexandria Nest of Owls will take place tonight at Odd Fellows' Hall on north Columbus street, commencing at 8 o'clock. Preparations have been made for a jolly time by the committee, Washington Nest has been invited and is expected to participate in the festivities.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARK.

Mr. D. J. Howell will shortly begin the task of surveying the second section of the George Washington Park. As soon as the work is completed and the lots numbered there will be a meeting of the second hundred lot owners to draw for locations.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

MOTOR CAR TURNED OVER.

A local train which left this city at 1:25 this afternoon met with a serious accident at siding 22, near the Dyke. At this point there is a short curve in the road and the trains run with considerable speed going and coming. The motor car turned over and several people were injured. Dr. Delaney was hurriedly summoned from this city and he left on a freight train at 2:20 for the scene of the accident. On the train in the rear car were Messrs. Spinks, Hochmann, Caton, Oehlert and Blondheim, who were unhurt, but these gentlemen rendered valuable assistance to the wounded. Those who were injured by broken glass and who were badly jarred were returned to Washington. Superintendent Percy Clift fifteen minutes after the accident had a train at the spot with a doctor aboard. The train was in charge of Motorman Ritchie and Conductor Hutzler. The motorman was badly shaken up but the injuries to the others were slight.

GUNNING OUT OF SEASON.

There is no wonder there are not many birds and rabbits and other game near this city as the "pot hunters" wont let them stop to feed even in the city limits. Every day and particularly on Sunday a regular cannonade is heard in Pompergill's marsh just back of the graveyards, and these gunners are now killing reed birds, sora and black-birds which will not be in season till September 1. Not only is the shooting against the law, but it is dangerous to life to those who visit the cemeteries early on Sunday morning. It should be stopped. The ordinance on the subject is $20 fine for anyone who removes a gun from his premises on the Sabbath day.

NOT SOLD.

Maj. E. H. Janney states that the report that he had sold twenty acres of his land near this city to the Washington Park Association is incorrect, the sale not having been consummated.

Stumping Competition.

That competition is at least the backbone if not the life of trade is illustrated by the big city department stores, especially those located in the same district, where rivalry runs high and the efforts to attract trade are studied with particular care in time of depression. That this same incentive for progress is not given to stores in the country may be one cause—or is it effect?—of the degeneration of some of our rural districts in the east. One of the heads of a prominent New York concern who spent a vacation in New England last summer went to the local "general store" to buy a few yards of a certain cloth.

"We don't keep it," said the storekeeper.

"Why not?" was the reply. "This is a staple. How can you get along without it?"

"Waal," was the indifferent explanation, "we jest can't keep it. I laid in some a short spell ago, but it was bought out, and every time I've got some it only gets sold. There's no use trying to keep it here!"—System.

Too Particular.

The finical customer at the fish market pointed at a sign in the window with this inscription upon it: "Anjovis."

"What does that mean?" he asked. "What is an anjovis?"

"Anjovis," answered the proprietor, "are little fishes. Didn't ye never hear of 'em?"

"You mean anchovies, don't you?"

"Not unless you want to buy some, sir," sternly spoke the proprietor. "If a man wants to buy my fish he can call 'em what he durn pleases. When I'm puttin' up signs on my fish I'll call 'em what I durn please, and anybody who don't like 'em don't have to look at 'em, sir."

The finical customer muttered an apology and escaped further trouble by purchasing a dime's worth of smoked herring, a harmless, unassuming fish about whose name there could be no possible dispute.—Chicago Tribune.

The Elephant at Bay.

Twenty years of experience tells me that a whole regiment of lions cannot produce the same moral effect as one twelve foot African tusker when he cocks his big, sail-like ears, draws himself up to his full height and looks at you, letting off at the same time a blood curdling scream, while in all probability others invisible to you are stampeding on all sides with the din and vibration of an earthquake. Surrounded in a dense jungle by a herd of elephants, they seem to block out the whole horizon. One I measured was actually sixteen feet from edge of ear to edge of ear. No wonder my insignificant self seemed to shrivel and my huge express rifle to dwindle into a mere pea shooter. Try as I will on such occasions, I can never overcome my sense of terror and always feel inclined to throw down my elephant gun and run for safety till I drop.—W. G. Fitz-Gerald in Success Magazine.

The Too Faithful Dog.

A party of young Australians wanting a fish dinner filled a bottle with dynamite, attached a waterproof fuse and flung it into a pool in a creek. One of them had a retriever who had been taught to retrieve anything flung into the water, and the bottle had hardly touched the surface before Watch was after it. They yelled at him to leave it alone, but he paid no attention and soon was swimming shoreward with the fizzing bomb in his mouth. The young men ran for their lives, and the poor beast, thinking it all a great joke, came galloping after. He was within twenty yards of the hindmost when there was a stunning crash. Two of the men were thrown down, though, fortunately, not badly hurt. But of the unfortunate dog hardly a trace was left.—Fry's Magazine.

The Strainer.

It was the first time she had ever used a telephone, and the drug clerk detected the fact by the nervous way in which she held the receiver.

"Dear me!" she exclaimed timidly. "Why are all those sievelike holes in the mouthpiece?"

"They are there for a purpose," replied the drug clerk solemnly.

"What purpose?"

"Why, so you can strain your voice."

And she was so embarrassed she forgot the number she was to call up.

He Would Return.

"Fifty dollars is the price," said the magistrate, "and I hope, sir, never to see you here again."

"Never to see me here again? Why, you're not resigning, are you?"

And with a nonchalant laugh Tooring-Karr threw a crisp fifty dollar bill to the clerk, entered his waiting ninety horsepower racer and set out to break another speed law.—New York Press.

His Principal Occupation.

The art photographer had visited the farm. "I want to make an exhaustive study of this particular bit of landscape," he said, "and would like to have your hired man retain his present position on the fence there. Can he sit still?" "For days at a time," replied the farmer."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Paying For Holes.

"Yes, sir," said the druggist, "we have all sorts of porous plasters. What sort do you want?"

"Well—er—which kind has the fewest holes in it?" asked Stinjay. "I want to get my money's worth."

QUITE TO THE POINT.

Municipal Ownership Failures Predicted and Acknowledged—Frank Statements of Opinion Sustained by Fact.

The following letters were received by an investigator of the results of municipal ownership of electric light plants, who thought they might be of interest to our readers:

Dear Sir—Some years ago the city of Winfield embarked in the enterprise of and built an electric light plant and waterworks. The electric light plant has been losing the city about $10,000 a year, and the end is not yet, and the water project is in worse shape still. We have voted bonds twice to keep the electric light alive and are now about to vote the second time for additional bonds of the waterworks. The whole scheme is a horrible failure and can end only in disaster to the people. I never have believed in municipal ownership, and the experiment here has only confirmed my suspicions of what the end would be. Yours truly,
W. P. HACKNEY.
Winfield, Kan., March 31, 1908.

Dear Sir—In reply to your letter of March 26, in reference to the village of Mohawk negotiating the sale of its municipal lighting plant to private parties, I would say the village has no intention at the present time of selling its plant, though it is conceded that a private company can operate more successfully and economically than a municipal plant can be operated. We have, however, discontinued the operation of the generating station and are purchasing current from a power company that maintains the street lights and operates the pumping station and delivers commercial current to our switchboard, but the village continues to own the entire system, though it has been a very expensive one. Very truly,
F. D. DUBOIS,
Superintendent Mohawk Municipal Commission.
Mohawk, N. Y., March 31, 1908.

Dear Sir—Your favor of the 26th relative to our municipal lighting plant received and noted.

Our lighting plant is about the same as all other municipal plants, which to my mind is never a great success to the city on account of so many contingencies arising in the management of the same. The manager is subjected at all times to change of administration and political influences which are not always for the best of the service.

The city bought this plant something like eleven years ago, and during these eleven years it has not always given the best of service. It has not begun to pay for itself, and now we are confronted with the reconstruction of more modern machinery, with the hope that from now on it will do better.

I have failed to see any great result of municipal ownership of public utilities for reasons above stated—viz, that you will never be able to get as efficient and conservative managers as corporations or private individuals. When they sustain a loss they will have to bear it; if the municipal plant sustains a loss it is up to the taxpayers to make it good.

This is about all I can say concerning the matter, and if of any assistance to you you are welcome to it. Very truly yours,
OLE ERICKSON,
Member of Board of Public Works.
Escanaba, Mich., March 30, 1908.

M. O. Was to Cure Such Things.

In his report to the service board of Alliance, O., the superintendent of the waterworks calls attention to the fact that the plant is in a bad condition generally, two boilers being unfit for use, the high and low water alarm system in the stand pipe refusing to work, the roof and spouting on the pump house being badly in need of repair, with the foundations settling.

A large number of the principal valves on the main lines are closed. Dead ends are numerous and stopped up with mud and deposit, much water in the mains being stagnant. The fire pressure is so poor that a stream cannot be thrown over forty feet, and one plug recently opened gave no pressure at all. It is added that the mains and hydrants have not been flushed and cleaned for fifteen months.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Butherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.
